

Concerned about the changing nature of retail?

Are you worried about falling footfall, changing consumer behaviour, rising wages, business rates or online competition? Don't worry, you are not alone.

In the last few years, high street retailers have been hit with a number of new pressures on their businesses, which has led some to restructure, while others have been forced to shut up shop.

If your business is experiencing signs of distress do not wait... act now!

There are a number of options open to businesses in your position and with the help of our experienced team at Gibson Hewitt we can make them a reality.

We can help with:

- Reviewing and improving your cash flow
- Securing reduced rents
- Accessing better terms with suppliers
- Restructuring your business
- And much, much more
